

Slow 25

Waiting for a song to come and the broadcasts rattle around my head Can't keep up when the backlash passes while I'm still tuning up

*I'm standing still,
standing still on a timelapse backdrop*

Waiting for a bus to come and the traffic rising above my head Can't keep up with the first-time passes while I'm still signing on

*I'm standing still,
standing still on a timelapse backdrop*

Authorities cry:
"you're wasting your time – what did you do today?"
which I thus refute:
there's no absolute
a minute's slow to me

*I'm standing still,
standing still on a timelapse backdrop*
